Lively Debate Staged by Council Over Free Use of Community Bldg. by Woman's Club

Resolution of Disapproval Passed, the Vote Rescinded, and Defeated.

FIRST TIE SINCE 1910

A resolution disapproving of the use without charge of the Community Building by the Woman's Community Club was passed, the vote rescinded and defeated on a second ballot at the meeting of the Borough Council on Monday night.

This resolution, offered by Councilman Robert F. Wood, provided an hour's dramatic debate on the subject, and resulted in the first tie vote in Council since 1910.

Permission was granted to the Community Club to use the Girl Scout room of the Community Building by the Recreation Board, which administers the playground grounds and building.

Mr. Wood, in defending his resolution, stated that it implied no criticism of the Recreation Board, which he felt had done an excellent job, nor of the Community Club. His point was that Council should go on record as opposing the principle of using public property for private use without compensation. A very nominal fee would, he said, satisfy the principle at stake.

P. T. A.'s "Get Acquainted" Meeting to Be Monday

Because of the unfinished auditorium in the Narberth Public School Building, the "Get Acquainted" meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the Legion Room of the Community Building on Windsor Avenue on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Following a short business meeting and the introduction of new teachers by W. James Drennan, principal of the school, the meeting will be turned over to the Hospitality Committee.

The Parent-Teacher Association wishes to thank Commander Frank A. Schrepfer and the Legionnaires for their kindness in furnishing the organization with a suitable place of meeting.

Little Building Done

But two building permits were issued during August by the Building Inspector in the Borough. They were as follows: A. C. Miller, 311 North Narberth Avenue, roof, $150, and Harry Derby, 108 Essex Avenue, roof, $90. Thirty inspections were made during the month by the Building Inspector, three operations being completed.

Recover Youth's Body. The body of Thomas Robins, Jr., of Merion, who was drowned August 25th off the coast of Northeast Harbor, Maine, was recovered this week.

Issues Burning Permit

A blanket permit for the burning of leaves has been issued for residents of the Borough from October 1 to 15 by Fire Chief Charles V. Noel. The Chief stated that burning must take place between 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. in a container on private property, not in the street. He also said that all such fires must be put out completely before the person conducting the burning departs.

Paoli Meets Narberth in Playoff for Main Line League Title

TO BE BEST OUT OF FIVE

By DAVE CASEY

The first act of that annual autumn baseball classic, the struggle for the Main Line League baseball title, will be staged this Saturday afternoon at the Narberth playground when Gene Davis' borough nine will meet the hard-hitting Paoli team, winners of the first half.

Manager Gene Davis and the loyal supporters of the Borough team are counting on the steady pitching of Jackson and Reynolds and the dashing play of the Narberth infield to offset the heavier batting of the Paoli outfit, which possesses in Tompkins, Verna, Umbach and Girard four of the most dangerous batsmen seen in

Johnson Ticket Wins Township, Loses Boro

Young Piles Up Big Vote in Narberth, Wins Only Two Districts in L. M.

WALZER SHOWING GOOD

The Montgomery County ticket of the Johnson Republican organization came through with a decisive victory in Lower Merion although it was badly beaten in Narberth at the primary election on Tuesday.

The organization candidates also carried the County so that their election in November is virtually assured.

The expected strength of the chief of the Boyd-Just candidates, "Lou" Young, of Narberth, failed to materialize in the Township as he carried but two districts, Merion and Wynnewood. Fred Walzer, Narberth's candidate for Sheriff on the Boyd ticket, piled up a tremendous majority in the Borough but lost out in the Township by 851

Mowrer Beats Bates in Council Contest

Polls 686 Votes to 591 for Incumbent at Primaries Tuesday

WHIMS ARE INDULGED

In the only contest for Borough offices, John A. Mowrer, Jr., of 714 Montgomery Avenue, won a nomination for Council on the Republican ticket at the Primary Election on Tuesday. He defeated Clifford W. Bates, incumbent, who has held a seat for one four-year term.

Mowrer ran ahead of Bates in Districts 1 and 2 but lost the third by 31 votes. The total vote was as follows: Mowrer 686, Bates 591, William H. Fretz 788, and Edward S. Haws 810. Messrs. Fretz and Haws are both candidates for re-election.

Bates was a candidate for re-election also on the Democratic ticket, as were Fretz and Haws. Mowrer had no Democratic petitions filed for him though he received 3 votes on this ticket. Bates polled 79 Democratic votes, Fretz 83 and Haws 94 so that their names will appear on the ballot at the general election in November.

By gaining the Republican nomination Mowrer is more or less assured of election unless sufficient split ballots are cast at the general election to put Bates ahead of him.

Borough voters, as usual, indulged their whims on Tuesday by writing on the ballots names of men who were not running for office, by voting for men who do not live in the Borough, by trying by their vote to create the office of high constable which does not exist in Narberth and similar idiosyncrasies.

The vote for unopposed candidates on the Republican ticket will be found in the chart elsewhere in this issue.

To Install League Officers

The installation of officers of the Narberth Epworth League will be held at the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday evening at 7:45. The Reverend Samuel MacAdams will be the speaker.

D. A. R. Directors Meet

The Board of Directors of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of N. S. D. A. R. held a meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Hugh Glenn Martin, on Wayne Avenue, to celebrate Constitution Day. Plans were discussed for the coming year.

Erect Safety Sign

A "Children—Drive Slowly" sign will be erected in the near future on Wynnedale Road as a protection to the children who play in the street. The sign is being furnished by the Keystone Automobile Club.

Growing Appreciation of Choral Music Seen by Mendelssohn Club Leader, Narb. Resident

Outstanding among choral clubs of America and one of the three oldest of such organizations is the Mendelssohn Club of Philadelphia whose fifty-ninth year begins this fall.

Its leader, Bruce A. Carey, of 6 Cleveland Avenue, Narberth, who with Mrs. Carey has just returned from a three months' trip to Europe, is busily engaged in preparing its plans for the season.

For several years there has been a close connection between the Mendelssohn Club and the Philadelphia Orchestra. The performance of "King David" in 1927 was the first occasion in which the club and orchestra co-operated. Then came productions of Beethoven's ninth Symphony, Boris Godunoff, and Bach's B Minor Mass conducted by Stokowski last year.

This season the club and orchestra will present Strawinsky's choral work,

Campaign Launched by Concert Association

Workers Entertained by Dr.
Herbert J. Tily at His Home

SPAETH AMUSES GUESTS

Thirty active workers of the Main Line Community Concert Association launched the campaign for memberships for the coming season at a meeting Tuesday night. The group were entertained at a buffet supper at the Cynwyd home of Dr. Herbert J. Tily, president of the local association.

The business portion of the evening was enlivened with an interesting program in the music room of Dr. Tily's home, in which several of those present participated.

Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, noted musical critic and author, and dubbed "music's playboy" for his unusual radio programs, amused the guests with several of his sketches. Included were "Yankee Doodle," rendered in the styles of many composers, and various interpretations of "Jack and Jill."

Dr. R. Mills Silby, noted English musician and now organist at the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul, Philadelphia, played several selections on the organ, including improvisations of a theme suggested by Dr. Tily, and one of his own compositions.

An unusual musical effect was obtained by Dr. Tily, who played an organ accompaniment to a record of "The Song of Songs," sung by Richard Crooks. He later played a duet with Dr. Spaeth playing the piano.

Plans for the quick sale of memberships, and election of officers for this year made up the brief business meeting. Two new vice presidents were chosen, giving the following list of officers: President, Dr. Tily; vice presidents, Mrs. E. Bisbee Warner and Mrs. J. E. Bacon; secretary, Mrs. Daniel Keller; treasurer, Richard J. Hamilton.

Emphasizing the importance of the Community Concerts movement, Dr. Tily pointed out the opportunity of hearing world-famous artists at home, and of aiding in the preservation of America's musical future.

"We need artists, and it is our privilege to foster and maintain those who foster the best in us," he said. "That is more important this year than ever before."

Those present included Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, Mrs. Daniel Keller, Mr. Lewis V. Biggs, Jr., Miss Ann Forstall, Mrs. Frederick G. Pierce, Mr. Henry S. Africa, Mrs. Earl Vondersmith, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Neely, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bacon, Mrs. John R. Michael, Mrs. R. Bruce Ramsay, Miss Charlotte Pennypacker, Dr. and Mrs. R. Mills Silby, Mrs. Arthur P. G. McGinness, Mrs. Marvin Harcum, Mr. George H. Gilbert, Miss Mary Collins, Miss Ann C. Boland, Mrs. Dorothy Johnstone Baseler, Mr. Philip A. Livingston.

Business Places Here

Plan for Fall Season

Schools opening, A's clinching the pennant, talk of football, and the Primary Election over. . . . Business houses—including coal companies, roofers, paperhangers, etc.—are experiencing a quickening of activity. White's Sweet Shop and the Narberth Pastry Shoppe have been waiting for cool weather before baking such delicacies as eclairs and russes. No one seems interested in mince pie yet, for that matter.

Speaking of the Narberth Pastry Shoppe, Mr. and Mrs. Tietz have decided to commence advertising their home-baked goods in this paper, commencing this week.

A sign of cool weather is the opening of the oyster season, which you know is supposed to extend through all the "R" months. The Arcadia Restaurant in Narberth offers an advertisement this week about its oysters.

"King of the Stars," in its first American performance. It will be sung in an English translation from the French made by Mr. Carey. This work will be presented at three concerts at the Metropolitan Opera House next spring.

Another work to be given in conjunction with the Philadelphia Orchestra is that monster creation of modern choralism, Schoenberg's "Gurre-Lieder." This also will receive its first American performance at the Metropolitan on January 15, 16 and 18. It will require three male choruses and a mixed choir.

At its own concerts, but assisted by the orchestra, the Mendelssohn Club will present Brahms' "Song of Destiny," considered one of the greatest short choral works, and a section of Bach's B Minor Mass, "Cum Sanctu Spiritu."

Two works conducted by Mr. Carey this summer at the Anglo-American Music Conference held in Luzerne, Switzerland, will be repeated this season by the club. They are "Urbs Sion Unica," by Horatio Parker from his "Hora Novissima," and the negro spiritual, "Listen to the Lambs," by R. Nathaniel Dett, director of music at Hampton Institute and considered one of the finest composers of the negro school.

Also to be included in the season's program will be two numbers for women by Elgar, "The Snow," and "High Singing Bird," and other novelties.

Acting as leader of the Mendelssohn Club is in the nature of an extra job for Mr. Carey, who is director of music at Girard College. Choral music, with the exception of the Glee Club, is at a temporary standstill at Girard until next fall, when the college's new chapel is completed.

Mr. Carey was born in Hamilton, Ontario, and lived there until nine years ago. He received his musical education at Florence, Italy; Munich, Germany, and London. At Hamilton he was conductor of the Elgar Choir and director of the Conservatory of Music.

When teaching at the summer school at Cornell and at West Chester State Teachers' College he was offered the directorship of music at Girard College and has held that position for the past nine years.

His first introduction to Philadelphia audiences as a choral leader was at the Sesqui-Centennial in 1926 when he conducted the giant choir of 6300 voices. Five years ago, when Mr. Carey became conductor of the Mendelssohn Club, it numbered but 80 voices. Under his leadership it has been built up into a perfectly balanced choir of 240 voices.

A tall, powerfully-built man, immensely interested in his work, Mr. Carey is enthusiastic over the future of choral music in this country. He feels that the association between the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Mendelssohn Club has brought about great interest in choral music in Philadelphia. "We have been able to give some of the greatest choral works with the best talent under the finest conditions and the result is a steadily growing appreciation of choral music," he remarked.

Passersby were interested this week in the three puppies owned by Elwood Smedley, in one of the Narberth Hardware Company's windows. They sleep most of the time, and are supposed to help advertise dog harness, etc.

The Shull Lumber Company is continuing its "White" sale of arbors, porch sets, gates, pergolas, etc., and is displaying many charming pieces, while they last, in its garden on Bala Avenue near City Line. An unusually complete variety of "home and garden" magazines, by the way, are available for reference in the Shull offices.

L. M. High School Notes

Feminine representatives of last year's graduating class at Lower Merion will soon make their ways to colleges all over the country. It is reported by Miss Helen Hubbard, dean of girls, that of the eighty-one girls who graduated from the High School last year, but fourteen will be found in colleges this year.

The University of Pennsylvania will receive the greatest number of girls. To this institution will go Betty Hartley, Sarah Jones, Catherine Miller and Joyce Trenholme. Temple University is the next on the list, receiving Mildred Evans and Isabel Ingram. Others who will attend college this year are: Susan Abernethy, William and Mary; Josephine Baker, Bryn Mawr; Jane Chamness, Ohio Wesleyan; Suzanne Holt, Barnard; Barbara Sutherland, University of Michigan, and Helen Louise Thomas, Wellesley.

The various fall organizations of the school were introduced to the student body in an assembly held last Friday by speakers representing the various organizations. Herbert Thomas, president of the Athletic Association, told of the many duties of this body in an amusing speech, which was supplemented by Howard Lodge, captain of soccer team, and Lachman Rinehart, captain of the football team. Sherwin MacDowell, president of the Lower Merion Chapter of the National Honor Society, explained the actions of this organization to the new students of the school. Alice Tyson, editor-in-chief of the school paper, "The Merionite," made a preliminary announcement in behalf of the staff, while Marion Tipton, manager of girls' hockey, urged a large turnout to this sport.

In all, a summary was made of the fall activities to which students are asked to enter.

At the close of an assembly held on Wednesday morning, the annual athletic campaign of the Lower Merion High School got under way. During the assembly Mr. William P. Nash, faculty treasurer of the A. A., explained the workings of the drive and gave instructions to be followed in purchasing a season ticket to athletic contests. Then the two teams of the drive were called to the platform by Herbert Thomas, president of the A. A. The chairman tossed for the colors, resulting in the team under Connie Wickham receiving the Red color, while the group led by Howard Lodge took the White.

The campaign, beginning immediately, has resulted in a great number of students "forking over" fifty cents, one dollar and a quarter or two dollars, depending on the type of ticket desired. Since the purchase of a ticket results in a great saving over the regular admission prices to the football and basketball games, both students and non-members of the school have quickly taken the idea up.

votes, carrying five districts, one being a tie.

In Lower Merion the vote for County Commissioner was as follows: William A. Ridgeway, 3549; H. Stanley Drake, 3371; Louis A. Young, 2605; Arthur F. Strouse, 1544; and Francis J. Ball, 572.

In Narberth the balloting for County Commissioner was as follows: Young, 1042; Strouse, 754; Ridgeway, 303; Drake, 279; and Ball, 98.

In the contest for District Attorney, Stewart Nase, of Lansdale, the organization candidate, defeated Abraham H. Hendricks and Frank X. Renninger for the nomination in the County. In Lower Merion Nase received 3308 votes to 1374 for Hendricks, 989 for Renninger and 107 for Samuel L. Borton. Narberth gave 712 votes to Hendricks, 318 to Nase, 160 to Renninger and 20 to Borton.

The nomination for Sheriff was won by Haseltine Lever, Chief of Police of Abington Township, who polled 3082 votes in Lower Merion to Walzer's 2231. In the Borough Walzer had a tremendous majority, receiving 1075 votes to Lever's 188.

George Gane, of Bryn Mawr, another Main Line candidate for County office, was defeated by the organization candidate, Frank W. Shalkop, in the Township by 3434 to 2016. Gane won but one district, his home polling place, West Bryn Mawr. In Narberth Gane fared better, as did all the Boyd-Just candidates, polling 824 votes to Shalkop's 381.

William G. Hower, candidate for reelection as Recorder of Deeds on the Johnson ticket, polled the biggest vote in the Township, 4461 to 1282 for his opponent, Fred J. Koeberle. In Narberth, Hower lost by about a two-to-one vote.

Thanks Supporters

To the Editor of "Our Town":

May I use your columns to express my thanks for the splendid support given me at the recent election. I know, of course, our Narberth people were chiefly concerned in securing a proper voice for our community in county affairs, and I am proud that I was regarded as capable of acting as such a medium.

To poll 85 per cent. of the votes cast in the town where one lives is a sufficient distinction for any man alive and in the light of that fact the loss of the county is of comparatively little significance.

We have learned a thing or two about this political procedure and it shall hold us in good stead as we carry on the fight.

Most cordially and gratefully do I extend my warm appreciation of the great help which I received from my friends and neighbors in Narberth and the memory of it shall be precious and long-lasting.

Yours very truly,
LOUIS A. YOUNG.

Shooting in Bala. Mistaken by two Lower Merion policemen in plain clothes for a suspicious character, David Berger, of Wynnefield, president of a Philadelphia hosiery concern, was shot through both legs when resisting arrest. The affair took place on Maple Avenue, Bala, last week, it became known on Tuesday. Berger, in Bryn Mawr Hospital recovering from the wounds, characterized it as "one of the most outrageous attacks ever made upon a citizen." Superintendent of Police Smith stated that there was no reason to discipline the policemen because they were performing their duty. The officers were Adam J. Behl, of Simpson Road, Ardmore, and Ellis Pedrick, of Iona Avenue, Narberth.

Writer Says Churches and Clubs Do Not Conflict

To the Editor of Our Town:

Concerning the Rev. Cletus A. Senft's letter in our paper last week, one cannot but respect his zeal for church work. But his comment seems hardly called for, when he asserts "it does seem to me as though we are contributing our energies (in community organizations) in a less useful way than if we all contributed these same energies to the Lord's work through our respective churches."

If, as Mr. Senft pointed out, there are at least ten community organizations in Narberth, even so they are too few. Narberth lacks a good men's club, such as the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club, which has over 500 members and has accomplished many things. It lacks a progressive business men's association.

I make bold to say that Narberth's churches receive more aid from the community than they give, in the sense of "contributing energies," and also in a financial sense. Ask any business man or woman here who has been solicited 'teen times for aid for new buildings, advertising in calendars, etc.

Has it ever occurred to many of our residents that Narberth's one Boy Scout troop is the struggling one it is for no better reason than that it has not been sponsored by Narberth's churches? You may hear it said that the Scouts have been supported by church members, and that no one church can readily serve as a meeting place for boys of all denominations. ... Very well, why can not there be two or four active troops here, as in Bala-Cynwyd, where the Presbyterian Church, the Methodist Church and St. Asaph's Church serve as headquarters for boys recruited from a community far less populous than Narberth?

Narberth has a splendid community spirit. Its public-spirited citizens have accomplished many fine things. For a period of years, after the Civic Association disbanded, the Borough seemed to lie dormant, absorbing the great influx of new residents who had made it lose its old familiar small-town unity of community life. But now, with the formation of a men's bridge club, a players' group and other new organizations, a renaissance seems to be taking place. To this, the church members are contributing their individual support. Let this continue!

SABINE.

E. A. Henry Tells of Travels Abroad

Another traveling member of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club made his fellow-members envious Tuesday. The speaker was Ernest A. Henry, Jr., of Cynwyd, recently returned from a trip to France.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry spent six weeks abroad, stopping in Paris for a few days of shopping, and then proceeding to Alsace-Lorraine. "The French will take all you have, if you let them," Mr. Henry remarked.

At Strassbourg Mr. Henry attended the meeting of the local Rotary Club, and was utterly lost among the French-speaking members until an English school teacher appeared on the scene and helped him out.

At Werishofen he took the famous water cure, and amused his listeners with many anecdotes of the strenuous and helpful treatment. His stay there was followed by a trip to Munich, Berlin and Hamburg.

"The people of Berlin," the speaker said, "are clean and courteous. The shop keepers do not try to take advantage of purchasers. Germany seems to be hard hit, but I found no growling. The shows and cafes are doing a fine business."

40 Practice Daily for Junior High Team

Coach Mattis' Junior High football squad is practicing daily at the Cynwyd School field in preparation for the coming league games. Over forty boys are in uniform and the competition is keen enough for first-string berths that the chances for a scrappy team are pretty good.

Mike Zengel, Arthur Johnson, Frank Miller and John McMahon are the only veterans back. Johnson is a good punter and passer and has been transferred from end to the backfield. Zengel is a heavyweight and his work at fullback last year was of high order. Miller and McMahon are linesmen.

In the Mailbag

To the Editor:

I want to commend in high terms the editorial which you printed in last week's issue of Our Town in reference to the County Campaign. It was one of the most honest and courageous pieces of newspaper work that has come to my attention in a long time. I found that I personally was not warming up to either side of that campaign very much and I was a little surprised at my own state of mind because ordinarily my sympathies are rather apt to go to any form of insurrection and also I was slightly prejudiced against the Johnson machine because they did not put the County advertising in "Our Town."

Of course I did not think that they ought to give "Our Town" all of the County advertising, but I do think that any legal advertisements affecting properties or the citizens of any locality should be printed in those newspapers which have the largest circulation in the localities affected. Your editorial clarified my own thinking and made me see that my state of indecision was quite justified. Actually, I have no particular quarrel with the Johnson leadership, so far as Narberth is concerned. I think that they have dealt pretty liberally with Narberth, taking into consideration that they are practical machine politicians and also taking into consideration the fact that there are people who claim to be leaders of Narberth opinion and of Narberth voting who have very frequently thwarted the desires and purposes of Mr. Johnson.

This letter is being dictated Monday afternoon, so there is no possibility that the sentiments expressed in it are in any degree influenced by the outcome of the primary vote in Narberth, which will be known to you no doubt at the time when you receive this letter.

Robt. F. Wood.

Defends Judge Drew

To the Editor of Our Town:

In your issue of September 11 there appeared a letter signed Harry M. Chalfant containing an attack on the character of James B. Drew, recently appointed to the Supreme Court by the Governor and a candidate for the full term at the primary.

Mr. Chalfant states that Mr. Drew is a Pittsburgh politician and a big cog in the corrupt Pittsburgh political machine controlled by Mayor Kline and Senator Coyne and is therefore unworthy to be elevated to the Supreme Court.

If this logic is good then it follows that Gifford Pinchot is unfit to be Governor of Pennsylvania, because he was and is supported by the same Kline-Coyne organization and J. Hampton Moore should not be elected Mayor of Philadelphia because he was selected for the place by the unholy Vare organization.

To my mind the political situation in Pennsylvania is such that no man can be elected to office without the aid of some similar organization.

Mr. Chalfant's estimate of Mr. Drew is so utterly at variance with the facts that it cannot have been based on personal knowledge of or acquaintance with that gentleman and has evidently been obtained from a circular issued by the mis-named Constitution Defense League, whose animus is obvious to anyone of ordinary intelligence.

In the interest of fair play, supposed to be an American characteristic, I wish to say that I have known Judge Drew for upward of 25 years and from my personal knowledge believe him to be eminently fitted for the position of Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Great Artists on the Main Line

With the memory of three exceptional concerts last year, local residents have the opportunity this week of becoming members of the Main Line Community Concerts Association for the coming season. A national movement, it is managed and promoted entirely by a local group.

The plan, which should appeal to any lover of good music, is of recent development. Unlike many local movements, which almost invariably involve a deficit, the Community Concerts group arrange the series to agree with the amount of money created by the number of memberships obtained. In this way a minimum of three performances are guaranteed, and a larger series is possible if the membership is large enough.

Last year the series included Sylvia Lent, violinist, and Robert Goldsand, pianist; Sophie Braslau, contralto, and Richard Crooks, tenor. Despite bad weather, the attendance was high at every concert. Over 600 memberships were in force.

This year it is the hope of the association to exceed this number, permitting of equally famous artists, and possibly a larger number of concerts. The series is chosen by a program committee after the membership campaign has closed.

The plan is the greatest step of recent years to preserve and promote music in America. By the inclusion of over a hundred cities in the bookings, and by the existence of a known fund for the employment of talent, a great demand is being created for the highest type of concert artist.

Widespread support of the plan, and this is being enjoyed, will have a tremendous influence in counteracting the deadening effect of "canned" and impersonal music. To those living out of touch with great cities, and those unable to hear a sufficient number of first-class concerts in any case, the creation of these local concert programs will be a great blessing.

Dr. Herbert J. Tily has taken the chairmanship of this local association because he is a firm believer in the value of the idea. He is a noted musician in his own right, and possibly the most active citizen in Philadelphia, yet he has given generously of his time and experience to bring these concerts to the Main Line.

Membership tickets, at a cost of five dollars, admit the holder to all concerts provided for in the series. These may be obtained from any member of the local committee, from the temporary office at 31 East Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, or by phoning the office of this paper.

We urge widespread participation in this series, not because the idea "needs support," but because the plan offers more than value received, and grants to the participant a type of musical entertainment, and a group of artists, that many people would gladly travel miles to hear.

Protecting Local Business

An ordinance adopted this week by the Lower Merion Board of Commissioners, restricting the operations of fly-by-night merchants as a protection to the permanent business men of the community, is one which might well be copied by all other Main Line municipalities.

The type of unscrupulous transient vendors who open up an unnecessary business at seasonal times, fleecing unwary buyers and taking legitimate profits away from permanent, tax-paying merchants, is one that can well be dispensed with on the Main Line and the Lower Merion Township authorities are to be commended upon their action.

The accusations of David Berger, shot by two Lower Merion policemen, that they acted brutally and without provocation, should be publicly sifted without delay, not only in justice to the accuser, but to the policemen involved. The reputation of the local force is too high to permit serious charges to float about the public prints without a prompt and complete answer.

And having been blistered for a week, we are now approaching the season for the equinoctial storms which the weather man says do not really exist.

Main Lines

Sidelights of the Election

One thing about Tuesday's election that interested us was the way votes were counted. Voting machines proved their worth in some congested districts of Philadelphia, where returns were made before other districts had commenced their tabulations by hand. Despite efforts made to discredit the machines in some sections, notably in Allegheny County, they seem to be a decided improvement on the present system. Or perhaps "system" is the wrong word.

We watched the ballots being laboriously counted in one district in Narberth at the rate of about fifty an hour.

Narberth's south side, by the way, had the borough's smallest vote, 'tis true, but it finished counting far ahead of the other two districts.

Counting was slowed up by the independence with which voters split tickets.

Boyd-Just people in Narberth credit the Johnson organization with a brilliant and typical bit of organization strategy in putting forth a last-minute campaign for votes in the Walzer and Young stronghold. They assert $500 was spent on Tuesday getting out the Johnson vote in Narberth—hiring cars to bring voters to the polls, and workers to cajole and transport.

Fletcher Stites' Packard with its "FS" license was seen at many polling places in the section throughout the day. Favorite Son "Lou" Young, Independent J. J. Cabrey and others of note were to be seen and heard during the day.

County Democratic Chairman Edward Kane, of Merion, received a nice complimentary vote. He started electioneering, it is said, early last month, and canvassed hundreds of homes for the Democratic cause. Mr. Kane is the Democratic choice for District Attorney.

The Jewish New Year

At sunset, Friday, the Jewish people on the Main Line began with prayer their observance of the eve of a new year, the year 5692 of the Jewish calendar. Rosh Hashana, the Hebrew new year, falls on the first day of Tishri, the seventh month on the calendar. That ancient Jews considered the number seven sacred, according to historians, because the seventh day was designated in Genesis as the day of rest and the seventh month was observed as the Sabbatical month. Rosh Hashana will be ritualized Saturday and Sunday, inaugurating ten days of penitence which will reach a culmination Monday, September 21 on the highest of holy days for the Hebrews—Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. This day is solemnized with fasting and prayer all day. On the first day of the new year the shofar, or ram's horn, will have a prominent place in the services. The horn is sounded three times during the services, rabbis explain. First it reminds the congregation of the supremacy of God; second that God is judge of the world and third that trust must be placed in Him who revealed Himself with the ten commandments. The use of the shofar is said to date back to the time when the Hebrews were shepherds. The horn was used to warn the flocks of danger. It also was symbolical of Abraham's sacrifice of Isaac when God's angel allowed Abraham to offer a ram instead of his son. One of the oldest of the known religions, Gentiles probably know the least about it.

HELEN ELIZABETH SIMONS

Funeral services were held for Helen Elizabeth Simons, wife of J. M. Simons, of 511 Dudley Avenue, Narberth, on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock, at the residence of her parents, Harry and Elizabeth Biegemann, 2316 N. 19th Street, Philadelphia. The interment was at Northwood Cemetery. Mrs. Simons died suddenly on Saturday at her parents' residence. She is survived by her husband and two children. She was a member of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church.

Local Movies

Narberth Theatre Notes

Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "Lost Ecstasy," was employed in filming "I Take This Woman," which the Narberth Theatre is playing this Friday and Saturday. In the cast are Carole Lombard and Gary Cooper, who has a wild Westerner's role, similar to that in "The Virginian."

Barbara Stanwyck and Clark Gable play convincing and interesting roles in "Night Nurse," Narberth's feature next Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday and Thursday the attraction will be "Women Love Once," with Paul Lukas and Eleanor Boardman.

Telephone index booklets will be presented all women who attend the theatre's performances this week-end and next week.

Commencing next Monday, a change in the schedule of matinees will be made. Instead of the daily ones, matinees will be given 3 P. M. Mondays and Wednesdays and 2 P. M. Saturdays and holidays.

At the Egyptian

"Politics," the Marie Dressler-Polly Moran comedy of political life, elections, etc., playing at the Egyptian this week-end, should bring out people who do not often go to the movies. It is really entertaining.

"Night Angel," coming to Cynwyd Monday and Tuesday, has two popular stars, Nancy Carroll and Frederic March. It is not recommended for children. Following it, instead of preceding it as is customary, there will be a Silly Symphony. And also on the program is an exceptionally funny Charlie Chase Comedy, "One of the Smiths."

Next Wednesday and Thursday, the Egyptian will play Eddie Quillan, the screen's youngest comedian, and James Gleason, wise-cracker, in a racing drama, "Sweepstakes." The pair were seen here before in "Big Money," which was quite amusing but poorly attended, perhaps due to lack of publicity about these comedians.

Week-end next, Constance Bennett will appear in "Common Law."

Guest organist this week is Leonard MacClain, who broadcasts over the radio as "Melody Mack."

Mrs. Hewitt Installed as Legion Auxiliary Head

The Auxiliary of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion held its first meeting of the season on Wednesday evening at the Legion headquarters, when the following officers were installed: Mrs. Roland K. Hewitt, president; Miss Emma Mueller, first vice-president; Miss Susan Mowrer, Sr., 2d second vice-president; Mrs. Frank A. Schrepfer, recording secretary; Miss Edith Hewitt, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Earl D. Dickey, historian. Mrs. Elizabeth Wipf, eastern director, installed the officers. Miss Emma Mueller retired as president having served for three years.

To Display Mexican Handicraft

An exhibit of Mexican handicraft will be on display at the Narberth Library for one week beginning this Saturday. The specimens were brought from Mexico and Yucatan by Miss Ellen Brinton, of Merion Avenue. Further details of the exhibit are given in the library column elsewhere in this issue.

The subject for the Bible lesson sermon for Sunday: "Matter."

Christian Science Topic

"Matter" is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 20. The Golden Text is "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away" (Matthew 24:35).

Among the citations from the Bible is the following: "All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field: The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever" (Isaiah 40:2, 8).

The lesson-sermon also includes passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key-to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one of which reads: "Matter and its effects—sin, sickness, and death—are states of mortal mind which act, react, and then come to a stop. They are not facts of Mind. They are not ideas, but illusions" (p. 283).

Shaw's 'Candida' to Be Twice in Week at Hedgerow

The fall plans of the Hedgerow Theatre at Rose Valley include three more Shaw plays and low-priced Saturday matinees for the performance of the plays which have been most popular this season. The first of these matinees, which will continue throughout October, is next Saturday, the 26th, when "The Emperor Jones" will be given at 3:30.

"Candida," the first of the new Shaw additions to the repertory, opens tomorrow night and will be played again on Tuesday, with the roles acted by Dudley Vaughn, Greta Mylecraine, Jasper Deeter, Ferd Nofer, Alfred Rowe and Carl Reukauff. St. John Ervine's comedy, "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," will receive one of its infrequent showings on Wednesday night, with the part of the temperamental actress in the hands of Dudley Vaughan and the role of her lugubrious business manager "Hobbs" enacted by Jasper Deeter. The Moliere comedy, "The Physician in Spite of Himself," is scheduled for Thursday night with a cast which includes Edward Ginsburg, William Price, Miriam Phillips, Jean Sweidel and Peggy Oliver.

A Friday night performance of O'Neill's "The Emperor Jones" precedes the Saturday matinee of the same play. Tonight's show is the Riggs comedy, "Roadside."

In rehearsal for performances soon are "Captain Brassbound's Conversion," and "Heartbreak House," by George Bernard Shaw.

Weds Grid Star. Miss Marietta Watson, of Merion, was married last Saturday to Lewis J. Korn, a former football star at Swarthmore. Miss Watson graduated from Swarthmore in 1928 the same year that Korn finished his post-graduate work there. The wedding took place in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York.

Fall on Stairs Fatal. Mrs. Alexandrine Greer, of 14 Thomas Avenue, Bryn Mawr, died almost instantly as the result of a fractured skull when she slipped on the cellar stairs in her home and fell to the basement. She was the widow of Samuel Greer, former Lower Merion Township policeman, who was struck and killed by a train in 1914. The funeral was held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont, on Wednesday afternoon with burial in Radnor.

Ardmore Girl Drowned. Miss Charlotte Elizabeth Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Chambers, of 116 Ardmore Avenue, Ardmore, was drowned Sunday night when she fell from a canoe on Taunton Lake, N. J. Her body was recovered by State troopers on Tuesday. Miss Chambers was a graduate in June of Lower Merion High School and had gone with her parents to their cottage at the lake last week-end. It is believed that a sudden attack of illness caused the girl, who was an excellent swimmer, to fall out of the canoe.

Stricken on Golf Course. Walter Thayer, of Green Hill Farms, and for many years an official of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was fatally stricken while playing golf on the Merion Cricket Club Course last Friday. Mr.

Thayer, who was fifty-seven, died shortly after being admitted to the Bryn Mawr Hospital. Funeral services were held Monday from the home of his brother, Sydney Thayer, Rose Lane, Haverford. Mr. Thayer was born in Strafford, attended Haverford School and the University of Pennsylvania. He entered the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1895.

Big Blaze at Wayne. The Radnor Fire Department battled two hours on Saturday afternoon at a fire which badly damaged the two-and-one-half-story stone residence of Thomas Harvey Dougherty, Jr., on Maplewood Avenue, Wayne. Five members of the fire company, including the chief, James Dunne, were overcome by smoke and heat. Thousands of motorists chased off to the fire and Radnor police found it necessary to rope off roads and detour traffic for an area of nearly a mile around the house.

With fife and drum. The Ardmore Boys' Club, organized last May, paraded through Ardmore Saturday morning to demonstrate the ability of the newly-organized fifty-piece band. The club now numbers over 100 members. The parade passed through the principal business streets of the town.

Carnival this week-end. The annual carnival for the Royer-Graves School for the Blind at King of Prussia will be held this Friday and Saturday on the school grounds. It is given to raise funds for expansion and improvement of the school's work and facilities. The school, in existence for ten years, was a pioneer in the work of taking charge of blind and retarded children.

Hangs self from tree. Joseph G. Bullock, of Wayne, was found dead early last Friday morning hanging from a tree in the rear of his home. It followed a domestic quarrel in which his wife was knocked unconscious. Bullock was the head of a tire agency at Wayne.

Injured in Accident. Dr. and Mrs. Edward Sheppard Thorpe, Jr., of 22 Simpson Road, Ardmore, were seriously injured when the car in which they were riding overturned following a collision at City Line and Monument Avenue, Bala, on Saturday. Their four-year-old son escaped injury. The Thorpes were returning home from Maine when the accident occurred. The driver of the other car, Paul T. Eppley, of Pencoyd, was held in $500 bail by Magistrate Kromer to await the outcome of the injuries.

J. H. BAKER

J. H. Baker, of Savannah, Ga., died suddenly last Monday while on a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Charles W. Dillingham, of Cedar Lane, Merion. Mr. Baker was 90 years old and a Civil War Veteran. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. J. Baker, in Savannah. The interment was also at Savannah. Mr. Baker is survived by a brother, Mr. L. H. Baker, and eight children who all live in different parts of the country.

Pure Coal FLOATS

—The Rest SINKS

In the new Cone-Cleaning process large steel cones are filled with a mixture of sand and water of sufficient density to float pure coal. The coal — literally scrubbed clean — floats across. The impurities sink . . .

What does this mean to you? It means that every ton of coal you buy is of the same uniform high quality. It sets new standards of heating comfort because it responds so quickly to control. Since it is all coal, it naturally gives you more heat value per ton.

Yet in spite of these outstanding advantages it costs no more than ordinary coal. Why experiment further? Specify this new-day fuel next time you order.

Behind the Scenes with Fashion Before the Smart Sports Day

What's what? Many things. The season is rich in variety. More sports style successes than ever before—and more diversity in styles.

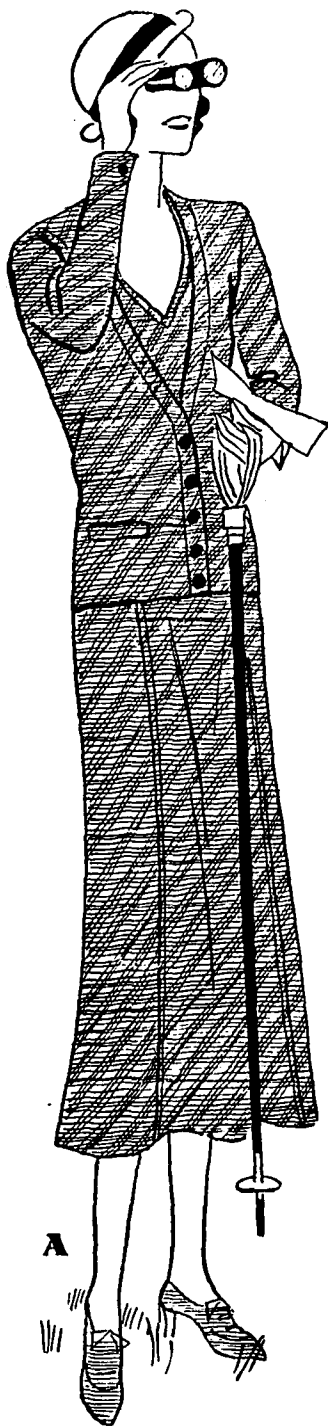

Skirts are straighter, waistlines nipped in, skirts frequently wrapped, belts having things pretty much their own way.

Sheer wools, the darlings of the moment; indefinite tweed patterns for the strictly tailored woman; fabric alliance for everybody who likes it; contrasting colors, an outstanding success; contrasting jackets ace high.

Knitted fabrics of paramount importance; crepes and boucles as strong as ever.

Jackets and coats, or what appear to be such; and the longer jacket that gives the tunic silhouette.

*A—This washable boucle two-piece model designed for the matron—every line calculated to lengthen the figure. The model sketched is in Patou's Caroub brown $25⁰⁰

*B—An indefinite tweed mixture with green predominating, in a soft knitted weave, featuring the side-buttoned skirt. The boucle knit blouse is in cream color. $16⁵⁰

*C—A saucy, youthful model with a decidedly "high school" air. Note the double-breasted closing, the somewhat "Empire" revers, the bar-unduki armlets—and see the beautiful colorings for yourself. $16⁵⁰

Mexican Handicraft to Be Exhibited at Library

The library will have on exhibit for one week beginning this Saturday, the nineteenth, specimens of handicraft brought from Mexico and Yucatan by Miss Ellen Brinton, of Merion Avenue. All those who have been fortunate enough to hear her give a report of her visit to the same district last year will be glad of the opportunity to observe the results of her more recent trip. Articles of embroidery, samples of hand-woven fabrics and textiles, types of weaving, baskets, lacquer work, leather, children's toys and native wearing apparel will be included in the exhibit.

Interest in Mexico had been fostered in several ways recently by the Lindbergh flight, by the residence of the Morrises, and more recently still by the writing of Stuart Chase on what he calls "Men Without Machines," or as in his latest book, "Mexico." For these Mexicans, in all but a few of the modernized cities, live their simple lives dependent upon themselves alone. Where the machine has entered it is still but the shyest of visitors. Cuernavaca and Tepoztlan, to give only two of the euphonious names of larger towns made familiar by Mr. Chase and Senator Morrow, are idyllic spots to visitors from factory-driven northern centers. There they are still following the leisurely pattern of the handicraft age and their gospel is not work but play—one day in three the year around, according to Miss Brinton. Their needs are very simple and their own hands fashion and repair whatever they require.

The exhibit will give full opportunity for examining the articles and all who are interested are invited to take advantage of this offer of Miss Brinton's for the purpose of acquainting themselves with Mexico, "our neighbor to the South."

Chicago World's Fair Will Have General Motors Display

Signing of contracts authorizing the erection of a special building at a construction cost of close to $1,000,000, to be devoted exclusively to the display of General Motors products at Chicago's International Exposition in 1933, is announced by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

A complete automobile assembly line in constant operation is one of the attractions planned for the new structure, which also will contain the complete lines of all General Motors products, Mr. Knudsen said. This corporation is the first industrial concern to contract for the erection of a special display building on the exposition grounds, officials said.

Chevrolet connecting rods are matched in sets of six to within one-quarter ounce, and are individually fitted by hand to the crankshaft. Bearings are of Babbitt metal cast into the rods under heavy air pressure and at 800° Fahrenheit.

Possessing the basic goodness of sound design and fine manufacture

From the selection of raw materials to the completion of the finished product, each process of building, assembling and checking the Chevrolet Six is marked by extreme care and precision. An exhaustive system of test and inspection makes certain that every part meets specified dimensions exactly. Many of these parts are held to limits of one ten-thousandth of an inch. No manufacturer in the industry uses more care or precision in building and testing than Chevrolet.

Just as every part of the car is soundly built, every feature is soundly designed. In planning the motor, Chevrolet engineers were not content to offer the public anything less than tried and proved design. They knew that the only satisfactory way to get smooth, flexible power in a car is to use at least six cylinders. So they adopted the six-cylinder engine without compromise. And this is what you get in today's Chevrolet Six.

As a result of this sound designing and sound manufacturing, you can buy a Chevrolet and know you are getting a genuinely good automobile—soundly designed, soundly built, basically and technically right.

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from $475 to $675

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan, special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy G. M. A. C. terms.

Horse Show Opens at Bryn Mawr Wednesday

Hound Show, Cattle Display and Dahlia Exhibit Other Features.

NUMEROUS TROPHIES

The thirty-fifth annual Bryn Mawr Horse Show will be held next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday on the Bryn Mawr Polo Club grounds, at Penn Street, Railroad Avenue and County Line Road.

This event, the second oldest show in the country, is one of the best exhibitions of high-class horses in the East and rarely fails to draw large gatherings from near and far.

There are more than three hundred entries in the show this year, in seventy classes, which cover all types of saddle horses and ponies. Hunters and jumpers, for which there will be many classes, always furnish a spectacular feature at the Bryn Mawr show, often providing spills and thrills.

There are a score of classes for saddle horses of various types other than the jumpers, including three-gaited, five-gaited, hackneys, road hacks, ladies' saddle horses, ladies' hunters, children's ponies and jumpers, Shetlands, etc.

The fifteenth annual Bryn Mawr Hound Show will be held simultaneously, and on an adjoining part of the grounds. It is under the auspices of the Masters of Foxhounds Association of America and the American Foxhound Club and is for foxhounds and beagles. Almost every foxhunting hound pack in the East will be represented by entries, as well as private fanciers of these classes of hounds.

There will be a display of Guernsey cattle, for prizes, under the auspices of the Chester and Montgomery Counties Guernsey Cattle Breeders' Association and the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society will again hold its annual exhibition and prize contest for dahlias and other fall flowers and fruit.

The proceeds of the entire show go to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, and as customary a committee of women is co-operating with the Horse Show Committee toward the success of the affair. These ladies will conduct a cafeteria on the clubhouse lawn. The officers of this committee are Mrs. Lewis C. Johnson, chairman; Mrs. William T. Carter, 2d, first vice chairman; Mrs. Clarence J. Lewis, second vice chairman; Mrs. Oscar Seeley, third vice chairman, and Mrs. William R. Mooney, secretary and treasurer.

Lively Debate Staged by Council Over Building

When the first roll call was taken on the resolution it was passed by a 4-3 vote, after a tie necessitated the casting of the deciding vote by President Leitch. The voting in this instance was as follows: ayes—Messrs. Bates, Haws, Wood, Leitch. Nos—Messrs. Fretz, Hall and Kaeber.

This vote which split Council asunder did not settle the matter as the debate, spirited but friendly, continued. Burgess Henry A. Frye entered the arena at this time to point out that Council was reversing its stand made two years ago when the reorganized Recreation Board's program was approved. This gave to the Recreation Board complete control and administration over the recreational facilities and grounds and the buildings thereon.

When the terms of this agreement were consulted, President Leitch felt that his vote in favor of the resolution was in effect repudiating the terms of this previous agreement.

A motion by Mr. Kaeber to rescind the vote on the resolution was seconded and unanimously adopted. Mr. Wood then moved the adoption of the resolution. On this second vote the ayes and nos were the same as in the first case with the exception of President Leitch, who again being called upon to cast the deciding vote, delivered his in the negative, thus defeating the resolution.

The much-voted-upon resolution is as follows:

"WHEREAS, members of Council have been reliably informed that the Recreation Board has granted to the Women's Community Club of Narberth free use of the Girl Scout room, so-called, in the Community Building for an indefinite term of time and occasions;

"AND WHEREAS the Women's Community Club is a private organization, sustained by the dues of the membership, election to which is controlled by standards set up by the organization, following the custom of all clubs; "AND WHEREAS the exclusive use of the Girl Scout room by the Women's Community Club on any succession of dates might and probably would interfere with the free use of the same room by the public or by qualified organizations;

"AND WHEREAS this free use of the Community Building is, in the opinion of Council, a violation of the original agreement between Council and the donors of the building, which agreement is recorded on the minutes of Council of August 5, 1925, and is morally and legally binding upon the present Council to maintain and defend;

"AND WHEREAS it is contrary to the public interest, as defined by principles, generally accepted and widely maintained, that private use should be made of public property, without fee or compensation therefor;

"THEREFORE be it and it is hereby resolved by the Narberth Borough Council in regular meeting assembled, on this 14th day of September, 1931, that the Secretary of Council be and he is hereby instructed to appraise the Recreation Board of Council's disapproval of the free use of the Community Building by the Women's Community Club, by sending to that Board a copy of these resolutions;

"AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that these Resolutions be entered on the minutes of Council for future reference and guidance."

Excess heat—plus.

Where are those cool September nights—and days?

Now that the primary election is over we can turn our attention to "wets" and "drys" in the garden.

Lots of water will be appreciated by the dahlias; the soil is well drained—of course.

When setting out small plants of delphiniums in the garden, better place a handful of Scotch soot around the plants—to keep slugs away.

September for planting out perennials, October for bulbs and November for deciduous shrubs.

Eupatorium coelestinum, known as hardy ageratum, may be moved in fall after flowering, but mark well the place as it appears above the surface very late in spring. It does well in partial shade. The white variety, eupatorium ageratoides, is a bit weedy.

Main Line gardeners will find their way to Wayne to view the big fall garden show on the 18th and 19th.

In February we advised our readers to order seeds of pompon zinnias. Those who grew them are more than delighted. One of the nicest cutting flowers for the table and they keep coming until frost.

Legumes like lime. Yes! And what are legumes? Well, for instance, peas, beans, sweet peas, lathyrus, lupines, clovers, vetches, locusts and wistarias. Any plant having a pea-like flower is pretty sure to be of the family leguminaceae. This may be the answer to the question—Why doesn't my wistaria flower? Wistarias seem to be tricky plants. They flower better when they can't climb any further, when the leaf buds are pinched off—helping to force growth into the flower buds, when their roots are pruned and when they are old enough to flower. Perhaps a combination of all these helps with lime in the soil and an alkaline fertilizer will bring flowers to the flowerless wistaria.

The astilbes, or spireas, are awfully nice things, flowering in June in white and shades of rose and pink. They rather like half shade and a fairly moist situation. Old ones may be divided now or new ones planted from now until frost. The newer garden varieties grow from two to four feet tall and are fine as a foreground for shrub plantings.

Abelia grandiflora! What a nice little shrub it is. Gracefully arching branches, pretty pointed glossy leaves and dainty pinkish-white flowers. Abelia should have a position protected from winter winds as the tips are apt to be frozen back. A little trimming and it comes back smiling.

The blue of chickory with the yellow of golden rod makes a pretty picture around King of Prussia and Valley Forge, in the limestone country. Poor old golden rod, much maligned and belandered, and innocent enough for it does not bring sneezes to hay fever sufferers; it's just a superstition.

All the language a babe speaks is tears—but that's enough.

Quarrels would not last long if the fault were only on one side.

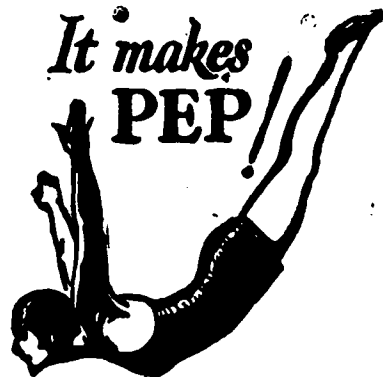

The born leader reaps the glory, while other people do the work.
